

IN THE LIVE STORE
We every man full credit for the sion of good business judgment. know that a low price without high quality offers no inducement to purchase and that to make claims in our advertisement that are not substantiated by our merchandise is rank folly.
Thus, in season, you will never see $25 suits or overcoats advertised over our name at $10.95 or $13.89.
In this store $25 clothes are $25, and they wouldn't be $25 if they were worth $30.
Likewise, they wouldn't be $25 if they were worth only $20. We get what our clothes are "honestly worth."
No more and no less.
Guaranteed clothes form the "backbone" of this store's fine stock. Any impartial expert will tell you that they are the finest clothes made by any one.
You positively can not get them any place but here. At our "greater value prices" they're truly economical.
$10, $12, $15, $17, $18, $20, $25.
A big line of overcoats, $7.50, $10, $12 to $25.

COLONEL BAIN SPEAKS FOR TEL- EPHONE GIRL.

To the Editor of the Lexington Herald: I sat in the central office of a telephone company and watched the operators at their work. Their eyes were fixed on the board noting the numbers as the calls came, while their fingers drew in making the connections.

At times one would be behind in keeping up with the calls, but not a second was lost in effort to reach the waiting one.

I said to myself: "Never more will I get impatient when central does not answer promptly. She may be racing as fast as her fingers can carry her to my call."

We go to the doctor and wait our turn, go to the theater window, barber shop or voting booth; but if central does not answer in five seconds we want to know if she's asleep or reading a book.

Let us remember, "there are others," and wait our turn. The continued beating of bells on the ear drum is hard on the nerves. Be more patient and pleasant at the 'phone if you would be just to the telephone girl.

GEORGE W. BAIN.

THE "TWILIGHT STATE."

(Huntington Herald Dispatch.)

"Ye gods! Where will it end! The Cleary murder case which was concluded in New York last Saturday developed the "twilight state" as an excuse for murder. The discovery of this intercranial storm child supercedes and relegates to a state of limbo such commonplace conditions as the brainstorm, the exaggerated ego, dementia Americana, and all the other tried and tested forms of subterfuge. The "twilight state," born in the "twilight sleep," we presume, presupposes a condition of mind having its existence in that mental region which lies between sanity and insanity. Cleary, who murdered his son-in-law in cold blood, was given a trial in which the flexible provisions of the unwritten law were invoked. In this case which, nothing seemed just exactly to fit, "twilight state" was invented. Mighty fine reasoning. "Twilight state," definition: "The assumed state of mind of a murderer with whom it is not mental bed time; whose cranial chickens are just going to roost."

RESPONDENCE

SPRINGDALE

Mr. Louis Rosemier won the $25 prize for the best kept section on the Cincinnati division of the C. & O. He very generously divided it among his faithful helpers. Mr. Rosemier and his met are among our best citizens and we are proud of their success.

Mr. Davenport, our efficient mail carrier, came near having a serious accident, as the coupling of his auto broke down as he was descending a steep hill, last Wednesday. It is now laid up for repairs and he is carrying the mail in Mr. C. B. Wilson's machine.

Mr. Albert Emmons has gone to Manchester, O., to spend the holidays with his aged mother.

CHIVALROUS HAZEL GREEN.

An exchange says that a prominent young man of Jackson took his best girl out for a drive recently. She fell out of the buggy and he drove two miles before he missed her. Such a thing could not happen to a Hazel Green young man. The hind wheels might come off, the springs break, or the horse fall out of the shafts without his knowing it, but the girl is always anchored and well taken care of.—His zel Green (Ky.) Herald.

FOR THE CHRISTMAS SEASON.

To live content with small means; to seek elegance rather than luxury and refinement rather than fashion; to think quietly, talk gently, act frankly; to bear all cheerfully, do all bravely, await occasion, hurry never—in a word, to let the spiritual, unbidden and unconscious grow up through the common—this is to be my symphony.—Channing.

WE HOPE YOU ALL HAD A MERRY CHRISTMAS AND WISH ONE AND ALL A HAP-PY NEW YEAR. WE THANK
